Aim (mission) of the organization

The Arrupe Center is non-public national in-service training center for teachers recognized by Polish Ministry of Education. Ignatian Pedagogical Paradigm, Jesuit tradition in education, and the mission of Catholic Church inspire the activity of the center. We offer educational training for teachers and school administrators from both public and Catholic schools in Poland.

We want to share our long tradition and new methods we have worked out with others, so that the young men and women educated in Poland were more "a men and women for others", leaders who are conscious about their role in society, competent and responsive to the needs of others.

Activity of the organization

Arrupe Center leads teaching skills workshops for teachers, leaders of youth groups, and Christian managers; organizes biblical seminars for religion teachers; offers the teachers and parents meetings concerning the problem of sects, addictions, education to critical perception of the media and European integration; conduces formation meetings for those working in orphanages, and rehabilitation centers; trains headmasters of the schools in supervising the teachers and managing the personnel; publishes a quarterly bulletin "To Be for the Others", and systematically publishes training materials; prepares the pedagogues, head-teachers, teachers and psychologists to act in prevention against drug addiction.

Arrupe Center works mostly in Poland but also in Lithuania, Ukraine, Byelorussia, Egypt, and with cooperation with many international organizations.
